DUTY OF CONFIDENTIALITY DECLARATION FOR STUDENTS IN SUPERVISED PROFESSIONAL TRAINING (EST, TKD)

Students must review and sign the document, the supervised professional training provider retains the document throughout the training period and provides students with a copy.

Section 12-7 of the Act relating to Universities and University Colleges: Students' duty of confidentiality
A student who in connection with his or her studies acquires knowledge of someone's personal circumstances, has a duty of confidentiality in accordance with the rules that apply to professional practitioners in the vocation concerned. Universities and university colleges must draw up a duty of confidentiality declaration, which must be signed by the students to whom this applies. Students who have committed serious breaches of the duty of confidentiality may be expelled from their studies and lose the right to sit for examinations in accordance with Section 12-6

Students at OsloMet sign the declaration acknowledging their duty of confidentiality upon admission to the programme of study. If the supervised professional training provider or another partner need to review the role the duty of confidentiality plays throughout the collaboration, the following duty of confidentiality declaration must be signed.
