Master's and bachelor's theses containing information subject to the duty of secrecy shall not be given access to and they shall not be available in the Open Digital Archive, ODA \(oda.oslomet.no\). Theses must therefore be kept in a closed archive. Duty of secrecy (cf. the Public Administration Act, Section 13, lovdata.no) applies to the theses containing:

1. information about individual's personal affairs<sup>1</sup>
2. technical devices and procedures, as well as operational or business matters which for competition reasons it is important to keep secret in the interests of the person whom the information concerns.
3. information subject to a duty of secrecy which the student obtains from an administrative agency.
4. information received from private sources upon pledge of secrecy in connection with the study/research.
5. information concerning persons who are dependent upon the body (school, hospital, institution, enterprise, public authority etc.) which has arranged for their contact with the student.
